

People fail to get along because they fear each other; they fear each other because they don't know each other; they don't know each other because they have not communicated with each other. / Use me, God, Show me how to take who I am, who I want to be, and what I can do, and use it for a purpose greater than myself. / The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands at times of challenge and controversy. / We must learn to live together as brothers or perish as fools. / The first question which we must ask is not 'If I stop to help this man, what will happen to me?' But... the good Samaritan reversed the question: 'If I do not stop to help this man, what will happen to him?' / Shallow understanding from people of good will is more frustrating than absolute misunderstanding from people of ill will. / No, no we are not satisfied, and we will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream. / Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly. I can never be what I ought to be until you are what you ought to be. This is the interrelated structure of reality. / Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. / We will remember not the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends. / Returning hate for hate multiplies hate, adding deeper darkness to a night already devoid of stars. Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate: only love can do that. Hate multiplies hate, violence multiplies violence, and toughness multiplies toughness in a descending spiral of destruction. / The ultimate tragedy is not the oppression and cruelty by the bad people but the silence over that by the good people. / An individual has not started living until he can rise above the narrow confines of his individualistic concerns to the broader concerns of all humanity. / "We must come to see that the end we seek is a society at peace with itself, a society that
